TWO FACES IN THE MIRROR- AN INVITATION AND A CHALLENGE

I stated in my inaugural address that a mason's search for truth should proceed from a basic understanding of what a true Mason is and what Freemasonry stands for. As we begin a new Masonic year, let us pause briefly and reflect on how we have lived our lives as Masons. For indeed as the great Aristotle once said "an unexamined life is not worth living". And the lives of great men are testimonies to this truth — the men who have achieved greater heights are men who possessed a clear vision, a deep knowledge and understanding not only of who and what they are but also their "raison d'être" — their reason for being.

We now look at our face in the mirror. In it we see two faces — one shows the vision of a true Mason, another is a reflection of ourselves.

The face of the true Mason shows the face of a "builder" — a builder of the mind as he seeks to guide himself and others to knowledge and truth; a builder of love and human relationships as he assists the feeble, guides the blind, raises the downtrodden and shelters the poor; a builder of the spirit as he seeks the sublime in his search for God and communes with him in prayer. The face shows the lines of one who has toiled in the building of the temple designed by the Supreme Architect of the Universe.

And now we turn to the other face — the reflection of our true selves. Does it show the face of a true Mason?

It is thus that I invite all of us to reflect on how we have measured up to the vision of a true Mason. And at the same time to issue the challenge to continue building the temple of our mind and spirit. So united in fraternal brotherhood, together let us strive to become the builders that we are or should be.

MW BUNDA, A MAN WITH GRACE...

by Samuel
P. Fernandez

"Since my father's death during the Japanese invasion in 1941 — I was only seven years old then — I have learned to be and to do my best," remarked the Senior Vice President of Union Bank of the Philippines in our interview with him at his well-appointed Makati office. "I had," he continued, "to take upon my tender shoulders the task of helping my poor widowed mother make my sisters finish their education because I was the oldest in the family."

Now the eldest son of the late Patricio T. Bunda and Remedios Villena is Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of the Philippines.

His life can best be characterized as a sheer struggle against overwhelming odds. But MW Rudyardo V. Bunda has had what Ernest Hemingway metaphorically calls "grace under pressure."

He exhibited this quality when, after his graduation from Cavite High School in 1951, he worked as a laborer handling several odd jobs at the Philippine Naval Base in Cavite in order to support the schooling of his sisters. For ten years, Big Brother sacrificed for them.

In 1961, he entered college as a self-supporting student, studying his lessons while commuting between Cavite and Manila. The difficulties notwithstanding, he was able to maintain his scholastic standing at the Mapua Institute of Technology. But, limit himself to academics, he did not. He got involved in campus activities. When his friends challenged him to run for President of the Student Council, he responded to their challenge and won the position. He became President of the Junior Institute of Accountants, too, and Editor of the 1964 Cardinal and Gold Yearbook. Then in 1964, Rudy (his friends affectionate monicker for him) achieved a double crown and glory: he graduated cum laude, with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, and received the MIT's Executive Vice-President's Scholastic Medal.

He was hired as bookkeeper by the then newly organized Bancom Development Company. While he was working, he was also reviewing for the Board exam. Later, he did not only pass the Board; he was among the topnotchers. Immediately he was promoted to the next higher position. Not long after that, because drive and enthusiasm were thoroughly his, he was appointed Senior Vice President of the Bancom Group of Companies.

"In 1979," he pointed out, "I was sponsored by my company to attend an Executive Development Program Seminar at the University of Michigan's Graduate School — an experience I value."

MW Bunda has many business involvements, many commitments. Decidedly! And we can glean this man's tireless energy in all of them. He has other positions than the one in the Union Bank of the Philippines, he is also a Board Member of the Banahaw Finance Company, Banahaw Pawn Shop, and Mantrade Development Corporation, a partner in the Financial Entrepreneurs and Associates, Comptroller of the Financial Development Managers Incorporated, and the Chairman of the Board of Magdiwang Finance and Investment corporation in Noveleta.

Now to MW Bunda's social and civic activities, of which little is known. Characteristically, he does things without fanfare, that is why, Yet, he makes his presence felt in such exclusive groups as Paul Harris Fellows of the Rotary international, Philippine Association of Management Accountants (PAMA), Philippine Institute of Certified Accountants, and International Chamber of Commerce. He is also actively involved in the philanthropic activities of the Philippine Band of Mercy, of which he is a member. He is a member, too, of the Sanguniang Panlawigan ng Cavite.

At the age of seven, you should recall, MW Bunda's father died, but at that age, too, the Mason in him was born. He reminisced:

My first exposure to Freemasonry was through my Lola, who used to take me to Uncle WB Cenon Trias. I knew all the time that my uncle was a Mason. But what impressed me most was his living up to the principles of Masonry, which, at the time, of course, I had only a vague grasp of. But this I knew: he was a disciplinarian, one who stood pat onto his avowed principles, and one whom people in the community had much respect for. When I told him in 1965 that I was already a Mason, he looked at me with a quizzical look. Then he told me in no uncertain terms, "It is easy to become a Mason, but difficult to be a true one."

One of those who influenced MW Bunda to become a Mason was his father-in-law, Marcelo Alvarez, one of the organizers of Bagong Ilaw 97, in whose house the lodge meetings were held at first. Of that Masonic group, MW Bunda had this to say:

I have never seen a group so closely knitted as that group. When somebody was sick, they went to the house of the brother and literally offered their services. When there was a funeral service, all of the officers and the majority of the members showed up, expressing their concern, condoling with the family, and giving the last rite up to the cemetery.

With such an impression, it is no wonder that in 1965 the lodge MW Bunda was initiated in was no other than Bagong Ilaw. It was in that lodge that he was passed and raised in the same year. It was in Bagong Ilaw, too, that

MW Bunda's involvement in the apendant and allied bodies is as fantastic as his involvement in other civic organizations. A KCCH of the Scottish Rite Freemasonry, he is at present the Senior Warden and Master of its Lakandula Lodge of Perfection and Council of Kadosh, respectively. A York Rite Mason, he is a member of the Commandery Knights Templar, Kalayaan Council No. 4, R & S. M., and the Cavite Chapter No. 13, R.A.M. An incumbent High Shereef of the Cavite Shrine Oasis and the President of the Philippine Shrine Oasis Association, A.A.O.N.M.S. for the year 1982, he is also a member of the Royal Order of Scotland and one of the founding fathers and first Royal Patron of Ilang-Ilang Court No. 20, Order of the Amaranth Inc. Also, he is a member of the XIII Martyrs of Cavite Chapter No. 6, Order of the Eastern Star and the Widows Sons Fraternal Charity Association. As such, he was instrumental in organizing the Emilio Aguinaldo Chapter of International Order of Demolay and Magdiwang Lodge No. 238, F. & A.M.

His interest in and concern for the youth have spurred him to become member of the Board of the Boy Scouts of the Philippines (Cavite Council), Chairman of the Advisory Council of the Order of Demolay, and President of the Masonic Youth Foundation.

"That I would be serving the Grand Lodge of the Philippines," he said, "was farthest from my mind when I became a Mason. When my name was first mentioned, I was virtually unknown and, therefore, a poor third in terms of the Grand-Lodge nomination. My only wish at that time was to have myself exposed to the august body gathered during that communication,"

Yet, it was his destiny. On his first try, he was elected Junior Grand Warden.

Referring to his task as Grand Master, he said: "I realize the enormous challenge that goes with the responsibility, and, just as I have always done, I shall give my everything-time, talent, and what little blessings God has provided me — in response to that challenge and in the carrying out of that responsibility."

MW Bunda has had similar challenges before. We know his "grace under pressure" will serve him in good stead. And we become more optimistic if we consider his deeply religious nature as a person.

He is an active leader of the United Church of Christ in the Philippines. In fact, he was responsible for donating a lot and a church building as Chairman of his Church Council in Noveleta, Cavite. This feat was duplicated when he donated a sizeable land and personally financed the putting up of a Masonic building in his hometown. Apparently, whenever MW Bunda is challenged, there is no stopping his ambition to make good his promise of expressing his concern in a most concrete way. A staunch believer of setting an example for others to emulate, he has made it his battlecry, despite the financial situation of the Grand Lodge building fund, to have at least a tangible manifestation of a dream yet to be fulfilled.

Born on November 4, 1934, MW Bunda is relatively young. As such, he looks forward, he has a vision. At the same time, being a well-seasoned businessman, he takes calculated risks; but these risks have blessed quite a number of lives, for when he decides his direction, he seems to possess the Midas touch. Because he is an indefatigable worker, he plans his projects long before they are to be implemented. Like the great Mason, Apolinario Mabini, he has not allowed his humble beginnings to be a stumbling block to his reaching the height of success. There is no telling where this great man will end. One thing, we can be very sure of: Where there is challenge, he is made alive.

For, verily, MW Bunda has, like the Hemingway hero, "grace under pressure."

SEVEN MOST COSTLY WORDS

by: BRO. SERGIO T. PENA

Lincoln Lodge No. 34

Modern management thinkers agree that one of the challenges of our time and which to an appreciable extent hinders progress in an organization, can be summed up in seven costly words, "BUT WE'VE ALWAYS DONE IT THAT WAY."

There is an old story that bears retelling because it illustrates so well how easily things can go on being accepted and go on indefinitely without ever being questioned:

When Bismark was Prussian Ambassador at the Court of Alexander II in the early 1860's, he looked out of a window in the Peterhof Palace and saw a sentry on duty in the middle of the lawn. He asked the Czar why the man was there. The Czar asked his aide-de-camp. The aide-de-camp did not know. The commanding general was summoned. "General, why is that soldier stationed in that isolated place?" asked the Czar.

"I beg leave to inform your Majesty that it is in accordance with ancient custom."

"What is the origin of the custom?" put in Bismark.

"I do not recollect at present," answered the general.

"Investigate and report the result," ordered Alexander.

The investigation took three days. They found that the sentry was posted there by an order put on the books eighty years before! Records showed that one morning in the spring of 1780, Catherine the Great who ruled Russia at the time, looked on that lawn and saw the first flower thrusting above the frozen soil. She ordered a sentry to be posted to prevent anyone from picking the flower. And in 1860 there was still a sentry on the lawn — a memorial to habit, custom, or just everyone's saying, "But we've always done it that way."

Many of our lodges today, would rather take the century-old beaten paths because we feel more comfortable and suffer less stress and pain, than try the unexplored, untrodden and unfamiliar hills. We honor and cherish our Masonic heritage and traditions — for these are the things that make our fraternity perennially great and honorable. But when one becomes satisfied that nothing can be improved in the management of the affairs of our lodges — when we are convinced that the well established customs and practices set by those who have sat on the oriental chairs a century or so ago need not be analyzed and evaluated against the need of the times, then, the chances are we may be headed to stagnation and obsolescence. To quote Carlyle: "Change, indeed, is painful; yet ever needful; . . ."

MY SON, REMEMBER WHAT I WROTE YOU ONCE?

by MABINI HERNANDEZ
ARAW LODGE
No. 18

My dear Son,

HAPPY BIRTHDAY on your 23rd. It has been quite a long time since I last wrote you. It being your birthday, I deem it very appropriate to open my heart to you on a subject of mutual interest.

Remember that night when you sat beside me and said, "Dad, I want to follow you. I want to be a Mason like you." I did not answer you. Remember? I continued reading. That is, I pretended to be reading as I did not want you to see my feeling then. All I told you was, "Good." I did not say anything any more. I knew you were waiting for me to make a comment, at least. Hearing nothing from me you left disgusted. I knew you were disgusted.

I continued pretending to read. I was merely holding the book, but not reading. Questions flashed to my mind. First, is my son joining Masonry because I, his father, am a Mason? Second, does he want to be a Mason inspite of his father? Third, is he serious? And other questions the answers to which, you yourself shall supply.

Years passed by and we did not discuss about your intention to be a Mason. But Sonny, your father knows you very well. I knew you were reading those pamphlets, books, bulletins, and other Masonic literatures which I purposely left on my study table for your own consumption. You did read them. I knew you did. And you were very careful to return them in the same file and position to leave no suspicion that they were ever touched.

All these years you had shown me that you are really interested in Masonry. My son, is your mind prepared to join Masonry? Are you prepared in your heart? Sonny, to be accepted into the Fraternity is difficult. To be a true and real Mason is ten-fold more difficult. It is not easy. It demands from you, your time, your talents, and your Treasure. In fact, it demands more of you and from you.

You must know and ever remember that Masonry is of God. And anything that is God's is a firm and steady Rock upon which the tempestoned waves of the spinning wheel of time may dash in vain — not destroying, not disfiguring, but refreshing it with more brilliance, vigor and strength. The fact that men of more than ordinary ability and culture are zealous Masons is proof that there is much in it which is worthy of the attention of the best of intellects. Many good and pious men of the church are devoted and dedicated Masons. This again proves that in their considered opinion and from their experience, Freemasonry and its teachings are for the Glory and Honor of God, and beneficial to mankind. Masonry is based on immutable truth and right. It knows not changes or shifts for expediency and opportunism. Truly, Freemasonry has been darkened by nights of human frailties. But then, the dawn of understanding and tolerance has always given way to, as it heralds, the Meridian Sun of Freemasonry, which as always, after the tempest, shines forth in all its splendor.

Freemasonry teaches man never to be too presumptuous to be thinking that he is far better than his fellowmen. For a man who is, becomes puffed up with pride and vanity and attributes his greatness to his superior wisdom and goodness. Then, he becomes maddened with self-conceit and starts to wage war, intrigues, hurl destructive criticisms, unfounded loose statements trampling upon the sacred laws of human dignity and decency. Whenever this happens, the All Powerful, The Greatest, The King buckle on His armour and the strong man brought low and shoved into the limbo of oblivion.

As a Mason, you can not merely give an eighth, a quarter, or half of your best. You have to give the whole of your best. A man joins Freemasonry not for what he can get but for what he can give. Always strive to keep your glass of life half-empty. Empty it of avarice, caprices, whims, greed, selfishness, inhumanes, When you do, you have then given Him a space to pour into your glass of life, His blessings, His Graces, and His Love.

A Mason must be matured in his thinking. Refined in his ways. Tolerant. Understanding. Loyal, Faithful. Disciplined.

Perseverant. Charitable. He must, all the way and in all his ways exude Masonic Maturity and Refinement. For his own progress and development, a Mason has to be intellectually restless. He finds time for anything and everything that is Right, Noble, True and Just.

Landmarks should be preserved. The Constitution, rules and regulations, edicts, directives, instructions must all be followed and obeyed. Through intellectual and moral discipline and rejection of the habits of the herd. The brethren help free Freemasonry from bigotry which stifles living reality in a rigid armour. Help avoid cliques within the Fraternity as it prevents the bursting forth of the unpredictable and imprisons the future within the limits of egoism and narrow-mindedness.

If and when the door of Freemasonry has been opened to you, never let your enthusiasm and that of the brethren be dampened by disappointments and frustrations brought about by some brethren who like you also succumb to human weaknesses. Never let the sun of brotherhood set on disagreements among your brethren. Look up to the fraternity and not to any individual brother/brethren. Always strive to liberate yourself and the brethren from blind technicalities and grasp the complexity and the wealth of the Fraternity. Never despair. Let the Fraternity and its teachings be felt wherever you are. In the darkness of failures, always perceive through the mist of dawn a path that leads to a harmonious, happy and lasting brotherhood among men.

With the above information and guidance, decide, my-son. To be or not to be a Mason. This decision shall be yours alone. Think. Believe. And then Act.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, again Sonny.
And may God bless you always.

With Love,DAD

A CALL TO UNITY AND ECUMENISM

by Raymond D. Legal, S.C.
(Speech delivered before Digos Lodge, Nov. 21, 1981)

If this were the period in the world's history when Church Inquisitions condemned to death people whom they considered and suspected as enemies of the Church, I would not have risked my neck by accepting the invitation to be your guest speaker. Even as recently as twenty to twenty-five years ago, it would have been unthinkable to have an occasion like this where a Catholic religious brother is addressing an important group of Freemasons. But then, you would not have invited me, and assuming the impossible likelihood of an invitation being extended, it would have been also improbable for me, being a religious brother and faithful servant of the Catholic Church, to have accepted your invitation.

This morning, I am happy and very grateful that we all have come to a decision to finally sweep away the climate of suspicion and distrust which, for centuries, has separated the worlds of the Church and Freemasonry. I am glad that you heeded Dr. Raymond E. Wilmarth, PGM, who enunciated the prevailing spirit of ecumenism when he said, and I quote: "Masons should act and speak to Catholics as we want Catholics to act and speak to Masons." I am deeply touched by this statement of Dr. Wilmarth that's why I'm here with you this morning with a sincere feeling that I'm a guest who is accepted and welcomed by his friends.

At this point, I feel that the steps we have taken to bridge the differences between the Church and Freemasonry are better appreciated if we will go over briefly some of the relevant facts which led to the separation of these two ancient institutions.

We are all more or less familiar with the edict issued by Pope Clement XII in 1738 condemning the fraternity of Freemasonry. His edict was later embodied in Canon 2335 of the Code of Canon Law of the Catholic Church. This came about for a number of reasons, but particularly because of the alleged hostility of Freemasonry toward the Church.

Over the intervening two centuries, attitudes and understanding have changed with the onward march of time. The road of reconciliation between the Church and Freemasonry was finally opened with the election of the most amiable Pope John XXIII who assumed the leadership of the Catholics all over the world on October 28, 1958. As you will remember, it was this kind and gentle successor of Peter who issued the encyclical "Pacem in Terris" which opened a new era of ecumenism. It was he who convened the Second Vatican Council and gave substance to the ecumenical movement. He did not want any wall separating people and beliefs. He regarded unity as an attainable ideal. He did not wish to see the strained relations between the Church and Freemasonry to continue.

Under this new climate, a commission was subsequently appointed and talks with representatives from the Vatican and Freemasonry were held in Innsbruck, Augsburg, Elmsiedeln, Nurnburg and finally in Lichtonan. As a result of these series of talks, the so-called Lichtonan Declaration was agreed upon and issued on July 5, 1970. The Lichtonan Declaration, among other things, announced, and I quote:

"We are aware of the old controversies which for long enough have led to the condemnation of Freemasons. It is useless to keep these differences alive. We, therefore, sincerely welcome the commencement of this dialogue which, in spite of existing differences, has brought to life the will to reach agreement. We agree that the basis of this dialogue demands a 'Yes' to the dignity of Mankind." (end of quote)

Referring to the existing Papal Bulls which condemned Freemasonry and its followers, the Lichtonan Declaration concludes, and I quote:

"We are of the opinion that the Papal Bulls concerning Freemasonry have only historical importance and do not belong in the present time. We hold the same opinion about the condemnation of the Church Law because from the foregoing it is impossible for a Church which teaches according to God's Commandments — to love your Brother and Fellowman — to justify these condemnations against Freemasonry." (end of quote)

The seed of openness and understanding that was planted by Pope John XXIII greatly influenced the policies of his immediate successor. Pope Paul VI even went further by favoring the lifting of the ban against Freemasonry in those areas where the Catholic Bishops so recommended.

Indeed following the Lichtonan Declaration and inspired by the spirit of ecumenism started by Pope John XXIII and continued by Pope Paul VI and those who followed him, dialogues between the Church and Freemasonry were held in many countries in the world. Happy conclusions resulted from these dialogues. Several Bishops Conferences have already recommended the lifting of the ban against Freemasonry in their respective country. Our own Bishops Conference is presently undertaking a thorough study and review of the Church position in the Philippines vis-a-vis Freemasonry.

There is no question in my mind that the time is long overdue for a dialogue between the Roman Catholic Church in the Philippines and Freemasonry. The dialogue is necessary because the need for unity is pressing, urgent, and compelling. This need for unity has been adequately spelled out to us by Msgr. Leonardo Legaspi when he spoke before the Philippine Grand Lodge sometime in the early seventies. He said, and I quote:

"We are living in an age of flux, an age where horizons of every sort are vanishing. As national boundaries crumble before the inroads of jet transport, the earth seems to shrink. Man has turned his eyes to the outer space, and he is measuring distance now not in terms of kilometers or miles, but in light years.

"In the face of all these dizzying developments, more and more people are getting overwhelmed by the immensity of the universe. Understandably, they are starting to regard themselves as insignificant, microscopic organisms crawling on a puny satellite. And because they feel so small and unimportant, they begin to have doubts about having an immortal soul. And they begin to question whether anything so small can be worth saving—even by God.."

A CALL TO UNITY

"It is to combat this insidious thinking, this insidious downgrading of the importance of the human spirit and the dignity of the human person, that we must become more and more conscious of our neighbors, of the inextricable bonds of brotherhood that bind us, one to another." (end of quote)

Man has already conquered the outer space. But the conquest has not united him with the other men. For as long as man will continue to ignore the need of conquering first the inner space of his self to dispel his prejudices and biases, his misconceptions and mistrusts which continue to drown out his voice of reason and the need for unity, man can never outgrow his ghetto mentality of persistently crawling into his own shell, refusing admittance to others not belonging to his group. We cannot ignore the call for ecumenism. We have to act now.

My dear friends, your invitation to me is a joyful event on the road of friendship between the Catholics and Masons all over the world. As we join our hands in fraternal respect, may we all be united in our continuing quest for peace and love.

In summoning the Second Vatican Council, Pope John declared: "I want to make it clear to everyone that each and every person is our brother and friend." And Dr. Wilmarth in turn said: "When you meet a Catholic, greet him as a Brother, because he is a brother. Whether he is a Mason or not does not matter."

I'm sure that it is in this spirit of ecumenism, oneness, and brotherhood that you issued your invitation to me. And it is in this same spirit that I accepted. We have just made a giant step toward unity and understanding. To borrow the words of Msgr. Legaspi again, "Maybe we cannot hope yet for unity of opinion, but we certainly can wish for a unity of hearts."

Thank you and good morning.

OPINION OF COMMITTEE ON JURISPRUDENCE

INCREASE OF CABLETOW SUBSCRIPTION RATES REQUIRES AMENDMENT OF CONSTITUTION

FACTS: In the 17th annual meeting of the Cabletow, Inc., on April 23, 1982, its members — subscribers approved a resolution to publish The Cabletow on a bi-monthly basis subject to the following increased rates:

- P21.00 Philippines
- $ 5.00 Overseas

The resolution however was not submitted to the Annual Communication. The opinion of the committee is sought whether the said resolution can be implemented despite its lack of approval by the Annual Communication.

OPINION: Our opinion is in the negative. Par. 179 of the Masonic Law Book, 1980 ed., provides for the rate of subscription to the Cabletow. This rate cannot be changed without amending this particular provision of our Constitution. It scarcely needs stating that no provision of our Constitution can be amended without the 3/4 votes of the officers and members of the Annual Communication. Since the April 23, 1982 resolution of the Cabletow calling for new rates was not acted upon in the last Annual Communication, it cannot be binding to our brother masons.

The need for the Annual Communication to approve said new subscription rate is easily appreciable. Under par. 578 of our Constitution, a member may be suspended for non-payment of Cabletow Assessment. It is thus appropriate that any change in the subscription rates of the Cabletow should bear the imprimatur of the Annual Communication since it vitally affects the masonic life of our brethren.

The fact that the Cabletow is incorporated under our Corporation Law and hence possessed with a distinct juridical personality is of no moment. The only significance of such incorporation is to subject Cabletow to the laws of the land respecting its corporate affairs and activities. Its incorporation, however, does not free the Cabletow as a masonic body from the force and effect of all our masonic laws, ordinances, rules and regulations. (Opinion No. 2, Series of 1982, RW R.S. Puno, ponente)
