The CABLETOW

THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE GRAND LODGE OF THE PHILIPPINES

MAY - JUNE 1985

PEDRO W. GUERZON
GRAND MASTER OF MASONS
JURISDICTION OF THE PHILIPPINES

Our 68th Grand Master, MW Pedro W. Guerzon hails from the beautiful city of Cagayan de Oro. A well known businessman in that prime city of the South, he manages several gas stations, a tire recapping plant and acts as the local distributor of all Firestone products in the area.

A dedicated Mason, he first saw the light in Masonry in Davao Lodge No. 149, and raised to the Sublime Degree on December 10, 1962. He occupied various positions in the craft, culminating in his assumption of the Grand Oriental Chair last April of this year.

COUNTER - POINT

Samuel P. Fernandez

"Love is lovelier the second time around," goes an old refrain.

Whether the situation or status of our publication is any "lovelier" is, for many in the Grand Lodge, a devaluated approximately half-a-million-peso question. But the wise fool in me accepted the challege.

Be that as it may, it is a joy to be back in the Cabletow to serve the Craft, despite my hectic academic schedule, despite the financial tightrope the publication would walk on this year. Recording the drama and excitement of the present has been, for me, a task worth performing.

—o0o—

Our Grand Master has sent letters to our DDGMs, asking them for official correspondents who should cover Masonic events in their respective jurisdictions, as well as for official district photojournalists to take charge of sending us newsworthy pictures. This will insure capturing in pictures events heretofore taken for granted.

—o0o—

A number of brethren have complained that while others receive two copies of the Cabletow, many others have not received any. We'll do something about that! But as of press time, we do not yet have the report of nine Lodges. We request, then, the secretaries to double check the information on their Lodges sent to the Grand Lodge.

—o0o—

Believe it or not, there are some annual reports sent to the Grand Lodge with no addresses of the members! In fact, one report reads that the address of a brother is Chicago.

—o0o—

When you pay the Grand Lodge a visit, you will notice that the walls dividing the different offices have been knocked down. Our Man-Friday, Bro. Rene Damian, has estimated the savings on electric bills to be approximately P32,000.

There are only three air conditioners, instead of the previous seven. Our office is not as cold as before. But you can be sure our hearts are more warrn to welcome you than ever before.

-o0o—

Please, do not visit us after six.

Part of the Grand Master's program on cost-saving is to turn off all lights and air-cons at exactly six p.m. Even if our hearts are warm, we do not want you to perspire.

P.S. — We don't have lights and air-cons during lunch break, either.

Fraternally

Warm Greeting!

It is my fond hope that you read through the address I delivered during my inauguration as Grand Master, which is printed somewhere in this issue, and give meaning to this year's theme and motto – "Today's Discipline, Tomorrow's Mason" and Masonry through the best of men, the best of men through Masonry," respectively.

The task of giving, meaning to the theme and motto includes the development of, say, A Masonic Leadership Program in every District designed to assist Master Masons as well as Blue Lodge Officers in refining their skills and knowledge in the principles, workings and understanding of our Craft in and out our Masonic Lodges. Participation in such a program will not only enhance the brethren's awareness in such areas as Ritual and Ceremonies, but also aid you in having a more positive and clear attitude of what this Fraternity is and the ideals it strives for.

Another thing I want to point up is this: we have eight Lodges overseas. They are as follows; Okinawa 118, Dist. 34 (Okinawa); MacArthur 183 and Morning Calm 189, Dist. 30 (Korea); Rising Sun 151, Dist. 22 (Japan); Emon 179, Dist. 21 (Marshall Islands); Charleston 44, Milton C. Marvin 123, and Micronesia 173, Dist. 20 (Guam). In fact, in my visitation overseas, I found out that a Brother had affiliated with the Grand Lodge of Japan because he was not aware of the existence in Japan of Rising Sun 151.

Remember, too, brethren, that the last Annual Communication passed a resolution increasing the per-capita assessment. The Grand Lodge will highly appreciate the punctual remittance of the said assessment by all Blue Lodges, as soon as possible. I count on your co-operation and involvement in the Grand Oriental Chair's administrative program.

MW PEDRO W. GUERZON

Grand Master's Inaugural Speech - TODAY'S DISCIPLINE, TOMORROW'S MASONS

This year's Annual Communication, like the 68 others that preceded it, was not spared from attendant anxieties as we endeavored to wrestle with various problems which are endemic to our fraternity. Far from being a picnicky affair, the past three days were marked by hard work, drawing out new insights from the knowledgeable and the wise among us, as we focused our attention to the question of relevance to the challenge of these times of continual crises. In this Annual Communication, as in the other 68, lack of material time did not permit us to resolve a number of important issues. But I am pretty sure that those issues will not remain unsolved for long because there are, in the fold of our fraternity, brilliant minds which are capable of discovering the necessary solutions.

Throughout the Annual Communication, I too was anxious — anxiously crystallizing my administrative program which, curiously enough, falls neatly into two parts represented by the first letters of my name:

P — for Pedro - stands for persistence and perserverance in continuing the programs and works begun by our worthy predecessors.

G — for Guerzon - stands for goal-getting and good governance of the Grand Lodge of the Philippines through disciplined renewal or return to the basics.

Yes, my brethren, as we mark another milestone in Masonic history in this jurisdiction, as your Grand Master, I would like each one of us to pledge his involvement in the continuance of the programs and projects launched by the past Grand Masters as well as to re-dedicate himself to a more resolute and vigorous pursuits of the objectives of our fraternity.

. . . we must engrave in our hearts, the objectives, mandates and tenets of our craft

The program initiated by our immediate Past Grand Master is, to say the least, a very laudable one. He has created a Center which handles special divisions on history, jurisprudence, symbolism and ritualism. He has also provided the Grand Lodge with a library and museum. Knowing its practicability and its benefit to Masons and non-Masons alike, I would like that this year the different Masonic Districts will follow the model set by the past administration. Let us set up similar Centers in the different Masonic Districts.

During my administration, furthermore, we will continue giving due emphasis to Masonic Education; for, to paraphrase brother Andres Bonifacio, we must engrave in our hearts the objectives, mandates and tenets of our Craft, protect them as we do protect our honor, and consistently put them into practice, so that gradually they will be spread and felt throughout the land.

I am reminded, at this juncture, of the initial years of our Grand Lodge when the color and the apron were subjects of interested discussions. When Past Masters from different Grand Lodges come to visit us, we are indeed dazzled, and come to learn what Grand Lodge they belong to from the colors and aprons they wear. In our jurisdiction, we seem to know only the colors and aprons of our own Grand Lodge Officers. But the Past Masters, who are automatically members of the Grand Lodge, presently have nothing but a Master Mason's apron. Most probably, then, we will also look into the matter of Past Masters' color and apron.

Besides, in line with the Masonic objectives of brotherly love and relief, this year we will continue showing concerned interest for widows and orphans and at the same time continue giving special attention to our senior members who have devoted the best years of their lives for the fraternity and who are now physically unable to come and fellowship with us. Certainly they are deserving of our effort to go and have fellowship with them, for without them our fraternity would not be what it is today. MW Rosendo C. Herrera carried out this particular concern so well during his term as Grand Master that his successor, MW Reynato S. Puno, created the Grand Guild of Past Masters under MW Herrera's stewardship and leadership and Bro. Rody rose up the occasion. Kudos to MW Rody Herrera for a job well done. His lead is worth following.

Another concern worth our continued focus of attention is the organization of more youth organizations. I am decidedly happy that now the Order of Demolay has its own separate Supreme Council. But there are other youth organizations, such as the Job's Daughter and the Rainbow for Girls, whose growth and development must be promoted by us. Our fraternity must lend propulsive and directive incentive to the insatiable quest of the youth for worthwhile and enriching activities, which in turn will give more meaning to their lives. I, therefore, encourage the Blue Lodges to sponsor more and more of these youth organizations. If Chapters of them exist in your respective jurisdictions, you will do well and wisely when you guide our young people towards having inter-Chapter visitations.

Speaking of conventions, allow me to adduce a personal observation regarding the District Conventions I have attended. There seems to be more socializing than tackling of problems which beset individual Lodges. It is desirable, I firmly believe, that before the convention proper, there shall be Masonic-program consultation, in which the various needs of individual Lodges will be identified. If need be, in the different districts, we will organize seminars on project cycle management to remind us of, say, the distinctions among plan, program, project and activity. I feel that we have to work within the parameter of our felt needs and everything we do will be time-bound, and persons responsible for such tasks will be identified. It is definitely difficult to accomplish anything without particular persons assinged to perform a given activity. If necessary, we will tap management experts — if only to give us a more disciplined direction.

For the past three days we have fellowshipped at the Grand Lodge Temple which, as you very well know, is crying for completion. (For the enjoyable fellowships a la Barrio-Fiesta style, let us give most Worshipful Reynato S. Puno a big, big hand. Together, brethren!)

There is no doubt that all of us would like to see the Grand Lodge Temple finished. We can hasten its completion by putting into practice a lesson that may be gleaned from the establishment of our library and museum, namely: those of us who cannot give financial support can give our material resources and energies in kind. We will, dear brethren, carefully plan out the mechanics for doing this. Let us soon have an edifice all of us will be proud of.

But, more importantly, each Mason in this jurisdiction is called upon to build himself into a veritable temple of truth, brotherly love and relief. If all of us renew our commitment to seek for the truth — if we discipline ourselves to attend Lodge meetings regularly and punctually, wearing the prescribed attire and observing proper decorum in the Lodge; — if each Lodge exhibits the discipline expected of it; — if we Master Masons set up ourselves as models for the knockers at Masonry's door and for new members, bearing in mind that our responsibility in the performance of our duties in the Lodge will be the example that the new members of the Craft will imitate; — if all Masons in our jurisdiction are not only proficient in the Craft but at the same time exemplars of personal integrity and high moral standards; — if, like the Masons in the Philippine past, we gain the respect of our countrymen and other people not only in our local communities but also in the national community, not because we have influence and money, but because we lead disciplined lives and get involved in the building of a better society; — if, in brief, by word and by deed, we are the best of men inside and outside the Lodge because we have made Masonry both our ideology and our commitment, — then and only then will Masonry endure and prevail in this jurisdiction.

As an institution, Masonry is adequately equipped with guidelines culled from the various lessons learned from the time we knock at her door. Yet we are faced with the stark and awesome truth that a number of the brethren have lost their interest in the fraternity's affairs. Some of the reasons given for this loss of interest are the lack of time to fellowship with their peers and the tension between their Masonic obligations and the demands of social as well as professional life. Moreover, it makes us red in the face to hear and observe that other brethren no longer attned stated meetings, not because they lack the time to do so, but because such gatherings have become, for the, nonchallenging, uninteresting, or even boring. In addition, non-Masons soemtimes ask the question, "Where are the Masons now?" suggesting, to our embarrassment, that Masonry has lost its relevance in modern times.

This situation has prompted the choice of the theme "TODAYS DISCIPLINE, TOMORROW'S MASONS," for this Masonic year and, correlatively, the adoption of the slogan "MASONRY THROUGH THE BEST OF MEN, THE BEST OF MEN THROUGH MASONRY." Yes, for this Masonic year, our emphasis shall be a return to the basics. We would like to go back to the old days when to be a Mason was equated with unfaltering respectibility and unwavering honor as well as with the image of being a leader of men in his own right and a pillar of morality and exemplary conduct. Many of us tend to cast aside our Masonic identification for the more mundance, pursuit of wealth and fame and power and glory. The attainment of these practical ends is praiseworthy, but in attaining them let us not forsake the Masonic dictate for maintaining personal integrity. Let us show to all and sundry that, more than ever before, the moral values that Masonry enjoins us to possess and to practice are very relevant in these times of crises. Let us stick strictly to Masonic tenets which are the touchstones of our Craft. Let us live up to the expectations of our forbears by putting into practice in our daily living our interpretations of the lessons we have learned from the rituals of our fraternity. Let us also have the personal discipline to heed the edicts, circulars and memoranda emanating from the Grand Lodge because they are designed for no other purpose but to maximize our energies toward the fulfillment of Masonic goals. Let us make sure, too, that our candidates are truly deserving to become Masons and that the new members as well as a number of the old ones progressively become proficient in the Craft. And in our day-to-day living, whether inside or outside the Lodge, let us make Masonry shine through our actions. For it is our actions not our words nor the vestments and jewels of Masonry, that in the long run show what kind of Masons and what kind of persons we are. It is only when we become the best individuals through disciplined pursuit of Masonic objectives and through faithful observance of Masonic obligations that we will concern ourselves with outreach projects. So often our community programs apparently have been rather anemic that we have not really created ripples in our respective communities in terms of sharing what we have with the less fortunate among our countrymen. That is why, without duplicating the various social expressions of other fraternal organizations, my administration would like the various Masonic Districts to re-examine their community-involvement programs. Most probably through putting more teeth to these outreach programs, we Masons will make waves in our communities and will turn to them who ask, "Where are the Masons now? " and say to them, "Without funfare, through disciplined daily living, with Masonry in our hearts, we Masons are quietly an explosive force in society; in pursuit of the Masonic objectives of truth, justice, human dignity, brotherly love and relief, we Masons are collectively engaged in worthwhile projects designed to turn our communities into better places to live in."

We can accomplish all these prongs of my administrative program outlined earlier because I am confident that individual Masons will take a step forward to be counted in their accomplishment, because I am confident that the Past Grand Masters who have creditably and honorably led our fraternity in their respective terms will similarly give moral support to my administrative program, because I know that a great many brethren whose ambition is to help make this fraternity great will extend their knowledge and wisdom to aid me guide the Craft in the next twelve months, and, above all, because I am confident that the Grand Architect of the Universe will be with the Grand Lodge of the Philippines during the Masonic year. SPES MEA IN DEO EST. My hope is in God — that closer attention to the rudiments of Masonic discipline by each of us will eventually redound to a more vigorous Masonry in this jurisdiction, for it is my staunch belief that Masonry is the maker of the best of men and that individual Masons who have transformed themselves into the best of men through disciplined application of Masonic teachings are the most eloquent interpreters of Masonry.

Let me end this inaugural address by calling the two persons who share with me one thing in common — total commitment to Masonry: my wife and my daughter Grace. Without their understanding and assistance I would not have achieved this time-honored position. They will be my inspiring companions in my governance of the Grand Lodge up to the next Annual Communication.

IT TAKES COURAGE

To live according to your convictions.
To be what you are and not pretend to be what you are not.
To say "No" squarely and firmly when those around you say "Yes."
To live honestly within your means and not dishonestly upon means of others.
To refuse to do a thing which is wrong because others do it, or because it is customary and done in trade.
To stay at home evenings and try to improve yourself when your comrades spend their evenings having a good time.
To remain in honest poverty while others grow rich by questionable methods which you could easily use yourself.
To refrain from gossip when others about you delight in it, and to stand up for an absent person who is being abused.
But it always pays.

OUR 68th GRAND MASTER

MW PEDRO W. GUERZON

In the evening of the 28th of April, 1985, the brethren from the different districts of the Grand Lodge of the Philippines who gathered at the Plaridel Masonic Temple to witness the installation ceremonies of the Grand Officers saw their 68th Grand Master so overwhelmed with joy and awe that he had to lean heavily on the Grand Marshal.

He averred later that to be a Grand Master is definitely a sacrifice, declaring: "There are so many things to do and so little time to do them."

Indeed, in line with this year's chosen theme, "Today's Discipline, Tomorrow's Masons," MW Pedro W. Guerzon has focused his attention on streamlining the Grand Lodge budget and saw it fit to increase the per capita assessment and the dormitory fee, to intensify the drive for the collection of receivables and to institute measures of cutting costs and controlling expenses.

"All these are necessary and desirable; they are decidedly necessary and desirable, I tell you," he exclaimed.

Thus, after his installation as Grand Master, he visited Davao Lodge No. 149 in Davao City, in which he was raised as a Master Mason on December 10, 1962. This visitation was made doubly memorable by the spontaneous response of his Mother Lodge to his appeal for early payment of its per-capita assessments.

"Davao Lodge 149 is the first Lodge to have fully paid the per-capita assessments this year," MW Guerzon pointed out. And the man who, by force of circumstance, has come to be dubbed "Grand Collector" added, "I'm happy that three Lodges in District No. 16, viz., Cebu Lodge No. 128, Maktan Lodge No. 30, and Tupas Lodge No. 252, have also responded instantaneously to my appeal by paying in advance their per capita assessments. I hope the other Lodge will follow their lead."

The Grand Master's focus on the financial condition of the Grand Lodge is by no means surprising. The boy born at Intramuros, Manila in 1927 went on to finish his BSC degree at the Far Eastern University. In 1963 he assumed Getty Oil (Philippines) distributorship for Misamis Oriental, Iligan and Bukidnon. Eventually, he became President of Three "G" Distributors, Inc. and operator of the Licuan Basic Service Station in Cagayan de Oro City. Besides, being a businessman, he has a CPA for a wife.

In 1965, he came to be the charter Junior Warden of Macajalar Lodge No. 184, Cagayan de Oro City. From 1968 to 1970, he served as this Lodge's Senior Warden, and its Master in 1971.

MW Guerzon was Grand Lodge Inspector of Apo Kahoy Lodge No. 166 of Gingoog City for 1974-75. Moreover, when Wadih Saab Chapter, International Order of DeMolay, was organized on June 21, 1975, he was one of the charter members of the Chapter's Advisory Council.

From 1976 to 1980, he served as Worthy Patron of Cadena de Amor Chapter No. 16, Order of the Eastern Star. In addition, from 1977 to 1979, he was District Deputy Grand Master for District No. 17.

Three events made 1980 a significant year for MW Guerzon:

1. He was appointed Grand Marshal by MW Manuel D. Mandac.

2. Anthurium Assembly No. 5, International Order of the Rainbow for Girls, was born in Cagayan de Oro City. This Assembly chose him as "Rainbow Dad"; he in turn served as member of the Assembly's Advisory Board. (For his services, he received from the IORG the Grand Cross of Color award.)

3. He was appointed Grand Representative of the Grand Lodge of Scotland.

This last appointment was certainly deserved, for MW Guerzon has been active in the Scottish Rites. On Sept. 18, 1965, he received the 32nd degree (Master of Royal Secrets). In 1971, he was elected Junior Warden, Mindanao Lodge of Perfection and Senior Warden, Rafael Palma Chapter of Rose Croix. In 1973-74, he was Preceptor, Jose Abad Santos Consistory. He served as First Lieutenant Commander, Leonard Wood Council of Kadosh in 1974-75. On Feb. 15, 1975, he was invested with the rank and decoration of Knight Commander of the Court of Honor (KCCH). In 1977-78 came his election as Venerable Master of Mindanao Bodies Lodge of Perfection. On Feb. 9, 1979, he was coronated with the 33rd degree (Inspector General Honorary). Then in April 1980, he was given the Supervisorship of (a) Mindanao Bodies, Cagayan de Oro City, Valley of Northeastern Mindanao and (b) Bukidnon Bodies. Since May 1982, he has been the Deputy of Mindanao Bodies, Orient of Northeastern Mindanao.

In April, 1982, he was elected Junior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of F. & A.M. of the Philippines. The years following saw him consecutively serve as Senior Grand Warden and Deputy Grand Master. Now he is Grand Master.

As can be gleaned from his inaugural address, which is printed infra, our 68th Grand Master encourages the brethren to put more teeth to Masonic civic-action projects. To him, the following precept of Bro. Apolinario Mabini still applies to the Katipunan ng mga Mason ng Pilipinas: "Cultivate the special aptitudes that God has granted you, working and studying to the best of your ability, never leaving the path of righteousness and justice, in order to attain your own perfection, by means whereof you will contribute to the progress of humanity: thus, you will fulfill the mission that God has assigned to you in this life, and by so doing, you will have honor, and having it, you will glorify your God."

Our Grand Master himself has been busy with civic activities. He is Past President of the Cagayan de Oro (Host) Lions Club, a Past District Governor of Lions District 301-E of Lions International, a life member of the YMCA, and a member of the Provincial Medicare Commission of Misamis Oriental.

In his inaugural speech, he enunciated in part:

"As an institution, Masonry is adequately equipped with guidelines culled from the various lessons to be learned from the time we knock at her door. Yet we are faced with a stark and awesome truth: that a number of the brethren have lost their interest in the fraternity's affairs.

"This is the situation which dictated the theme "Today's Discipline, Tomorrow's Masons" for this Masonic Year and correlatively, the adoption of the slogan "Masonry Through The Best of Men, The Best Of Men Through Masonry."

MW Guerzon's complete inaugural address which is given below should give the brethren and friends of Masons deeper insight into the man upon whose shoulders has been placed the onus of leading the Grand Lodge of the Philippines in these times marked by efforts toward economic recovery and moral regeneration and by the need for rededication to the Masonic tenets and their disciplined application in day-to-day living.

WE BUILD FOR ETERNITY

Therefore when we build, let us think that we build for Eternity. Let it not be for the present delight nor for present use alone, but let it be for such work as our descendants will thank us for, and let us think as we lay stone upon stone, that a time will come when the stones will be held sacred because our hands have thouched them and men will say as they look upon the labor that wrought them: See! this our fathers did for us.

THE GM's INSPIRATIONS

Sis. Charo

"I am happy for my husband because he likes his job as Grand Master."

That is Sis. Rosario (Charo) Diño Viray Guerzon's succinct description of her feelings as wife of the new Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the Philippines.

"I don't want to think of the difficulties concomitant with the Grand Master's job," she adds with her characteristic Libran simplicity and equanimity.

Although, momentarily, she refuses to think of the onerous task germane to the Grand Oriental Chair, Sis. Charo makes no bones about revealing her age.

"I was born on October 9, 1938," she casually declares.

Twenty years later, she graduated from the University of the East in Manila with the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration, major in Accounting.

Charo V. Guerzon, CPA, not only practices her profession in Manila. She works as accountant of Chemaster and of Licuan Shell Station in Cagayan de Oro City. She is also manager of Esperanza Pawnshop in the same city.

In 1980, she was delegate to the ASEAN Accountants Convention in Singapore.

Aside from her accountantship and manager's job, Sis. Charo has been actively involved in several organizations, especially in the Order of the Eastern Star (OES) and in the International Order of the Rainbow for Girls (IORG), which Daughter Grace belongs to. Her concerned involvement in these organizations is manifest in this statement of hers: "Kahit may sakit ako (ailment notwithstanding), I attend the activities of the OES and of the IORG."

She is Charter Matron, Cadena de Amor Chapter No. 16, OES, Cagayan de Oro City; Past President, Cagayan de Oro Lioness Club; and member, Ikenobo International, Cagayan de Oro City Chapter.

In 1975, as representative of the Mindanao Lioness Club and as Governor's wife, District 301-E, she attended the Lions International Convention in Dallas, Texas. The following year, she again represented the Mindanao Lioness Clubs in the Lioness seminar held during the Lions International Convention in Honolulu, Hawaii. In 1979, she was delegate to the OES Triennial Assembly in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. And since 1983, by virtue of the appointment made by Sister Carol C. Strizek, she has been Deputy to the Most Worthy Grand Matron, General Grand Chapter, OES.

MW Guerzon is helping organize more OES Chapters, and Sis. Charo will support her husband's endeavor in this regard, with the hope that a Grand Chapter of the OES will be established here. She also hopes that a Supreme Assembly of the Rainbow for Girls will eventually be organized – similar to the Supreme Council of the DeMolay.

According to Sis. Charo, the OES will help the Grand Lodge in giving due recognition to Senior Masons and in the Widows' Nights. She will also be in close collaboration with the wives of the present set of Grand Lodge Officers and with those of the Past Grand Masters. She will play a supporting role in the Ladies' Committee headed by Sis. Ching Herrera.

Additionally, Sis. Charo remarks, "I am confident that the brethren will involve their ladies in support not only of MW Guerzon's administrative program but the programs of the different Lodges as well."

When asked how her friends regard Freemasonry, she replied: "They know it is only a Fraternity – and a good one at that!"

"How has your husband's assumption of the Grand Master's chair affected your life?"

"It has affected our life somewhat, but we have made the necessary adjustments" was her immediate retort. "While I am in Manila, or thereabouts, with my husband, my sister will manage our business in Cagayan."

Sis. Charo & daughter Kelly with the Grand Master.

Since the Junior Wardenship of her husband, she has been to district conventions in the South. Hence, she has decided that this year she will accompany her husband, particularly in his visitations in the North.

Sister Charo calls for the brethren's co-operation in and support for MW Guerzon's administrative program as well as for unity in this jurisdiction.

And she extends fraternal greetings to all brethren – and their ladies.

AND DAUGHTER GRACE

Greetings, too, from Grace (Kelly) V. Guerzon, the other inspiring companion of MW Guerzon, who is, indeed, very happy and proud that her father has reached his dream.

"I hope, like him, I will attain my aspiration: to become a Worthy Adviser of the Rainbow for Girls," says Grace, a sophomore high school student at Lourdes College, Cagayan de Oro City, where she has been studying since her first grade and whose Biology Club she is an interested member of.

MW Guerzon's unica hija would like to get more involved in youth organizations allied to Masonry. She is at present a Color Station Officer, Anthurium Assembly No. 5, IORG, in her home city. Fondly recalling her receipt of a merit badge at her first meeting with the Assembly, just like her parents, she has another hope constantly springing in her juvenile breast: the Grand-Cross-of-Color award.

HIS TEAMMATES AND THEIR PARTNERS

The heir apparent to the Grand Oriental Chair was born in Masantol, Pampanga on August 31, 1932.

He obtained his LI.B. degree from the University of the Philippines in 1955 and his present position as the Chief Citizens Attorney, Citizens Legal Assistance Office, Ministry of Justice, in 1975.

RW REYNOLD S. FAJARDO

Besides attending the 10th Session of the Career Executive Service Development Program at the DAP, he was delegate in 1979 to the Conference on Legal Development held at Jakarta, Indonesia and in 1982 to the ASEAN Law Association's 2nd General Assembly, Kuala Lumpur.

Also in 1982, he received the Lingkod Bayan award for his outstanding and significant contributions to public service.

In 1983, upon then US Ambassador William Armcost's invitation, RW Fajardo participated.

in the USIS International Visitor Program.

He is a member of the Pampanga Chapter, IBP and of the Knight of Rizal. He is also the Legal Officer of the Bureau Directors Association.

His Masonic career is as impressive as the professional one. He was initiated in Quezon City Lodge No. 122 in 1971. Then he affiliated as dual member of Manila-Mt. Lebanon Lodge No. 1. He was a Cabletow editor, 1981-82; Far Eastern Freemason associated editor, 1981; and one the authors of MW Rosendo C. Herrera's tribute to the PGMs: Kinship to Greatness (1983).

An ambition Bro. Reynold would like to realize is to come up with a complete history of Philippine Masonry.

Meanwhile, he continues to make waves in Masonic circles in the Philippines. He is a past Grand Lodge Inspector, Junior Grand Lecturer, and District Deputy Grand Master for District 9, as well as a member of several Grand Lodge Committees.

He is also a member of the Luzon Bodies, A. & A.S.R. and of Luzon Chapter, RAM. And he is a past Grand Royal Patron of the Order of the Amaranth.

. . . AND SIS. ASUNCION V. FAJARDO

"I have always resented the fact that Masons forbid women from joining the Craft," says Sis. Siony. "Our involvement with the Order of the Amaranth provided an insight into the mysteries that have bound the Craft into a cohesive body."

This native of St. Tomas, Batangas met the Deputy Grand Master while they were studying at the University of the Philippines.

A mother of four, Sis. Siony considers herself a gardener by profession. She attends to a lot of plants which he rents out to bank and offices.

She was initiated in Tandang Sora Court No. 8, Order of the Amaranth. When her term as Royal Matron of said Court expired in 1980, she was elected to the position of Grand Associate Conductress in the Grand Court. In 1983, she was elected Grand Royal Matron; consequently, Bro. Reynold became Grand Royal Patron.

Sis. Siony was born on August 15, 1933.

RW TEODORICO V. BALDONADO

In 1984, when he was asked why he ran for the Junior Wardenship, RW Teddy Baldonado responded that he wanted to serve the Fraternity, and he quipped, "Don't you think that every Mason's dream is to become a Grand Master?"

Most probably that was not yet his dream when he walked into the Grand Lodge several years ago and applied for membership in the Masonic Fraternity. But he did learn much about Masonry from Illustrious Brother Domingo F.M. Domingo, who has been known to be the "workingest big little man at the Grand Lodge."

RW Baldonado was initiated in Laong Laan Lodge No. 185 on May 6, 1972, passed in June 1 and raised in June 7. He became Worshipful Master of his Lodge in 1975 and again in 1977. In 1976, as well as in 1978 and in 1979, he was Treasurer of the Lodge.

But he did not limit his activities to his Lodge; he helped other Lodges. He is, in fact, a charter member of Jacobo Zobel Memorial Lodge No. 202 and greatly helped in "resurrecting" Juan Sumulong Memorial Lodge No. 169 and Marikina Lodge No. 19 by generating attendance therein. He has, furthermore, promised a portion of the land where the temple of Marikina Lodge would be constructed.

As Grand Lecturer of Masonic District No. 9 (1980), he has organized the District's Worshipful Masters into a Council of Advisers.

Not only did he pursue degrees in law and economics at the U.P. but he holds the rank of Major in the reserve force of the AFP. Presently, he holds the vice-presidency for sales at Republic Flour Mills.

. . . AND SIS. TERESA AYSON-BALDONADO

Bro. Teddy, whose birth date is January 7, 1937, is married to a UP High School graduate like himself: nee Teresa Ayson, a pharmacist from UST.

Interestingly, the two met in a fiesta of Sta. Maria, Ilocos Sur, shortly before Sis. Teres's coronation as town queen.

Sis. Teres organized the Laong-Laan Ladies Auxiliary and became its first president. This group was motivated by her to be readily available whenever there would be a raising in Laong Laan Lodge in order that they would welcome the newly-raised brother's wife to fellowship. The LILLA has lent a hand in Laong Laan Lodge's social, civic and charitable activities.

She worked at Wintrop Drug Company and at Hospital ng Maynila. Recently, she is a business woman in charge of farm lands in Ilocos and apartment houses in Manila.

RW RAYMUNDO N. BELTRAN

During the first phase of the Philippine Revolution, after the capture of Naik by the Spaniards, the revolutionaries made Maragondon, Cavite their new capital. The Spaniards furiously pounded this town, forcing the Filipino forces to retreat. But far from being demoralized, the Filipinos became more united against the enemy.

In this historic town of Cavite was born on March 15, 1936 the man who was elected Junior Warden for this Masonic Year: RW Raymundo N. Beltran. He inherited the fighting spirit of his revolutionary ancestors, as is evidenced by the fact that his loss to RW Baldonado in the race for the Junior Wardenship in April 1984 did not alter his resolve to serve the Grand Lodge of the Philippines.

He graduated from the FEU College of Law in 1958 and passed the bar in the same year. Since then he has been a legal practitioner.

RW Beltran was raised to the sublime Degree of Master Mason at Mt. Mainam Lodge No. 49, Naic, Cavite in May, 1964. Six years later (1970), he was elected the Worshipful Master of this Lodge. The next year, he was given another term as Master by his brethren.

In 1975, he joined Manila-Mt. Lebanon Lodge No. 1 and the following year he was elected to the Worshipful Mastership of the Lodge.

In 1976, after his brief stint, as Grand Chaplain, he served as DDGM for District 10; and he remained in that capacity until 1978.

RW Beltran, Grand Orator from 1978 to 1981, has been equally active in the Philippine Bodies, A. & A.S.R., whose Lakandula Lodge of Perfection he is a Past Venerable Master of. He is, likewise, a Past Patron, Sampaguita Chapter No. 3, OES. He also holds membership in the Royal Order of Scotland; Manila Court No. 4, Order of the Amaranth; C.W. Rosenstock Chapter No. 6, RAM; Manila Council No. 2, R & S.M.; and Far East Commendary, K.T. of the York Rite.

Our new JW has proved his mettle as an organizer and initiator. For having organized the General Emilio Aguinaldo Chapter, IOD, he was awarded the Key of Zerubbabel. In like manner, for having organized the Tierra Alta Chapter, IORG, he was conferred the Cross of Color. In addition, he initiated the organization of the Bukang Liwayway Chapter, OES.

RW Beltran's dedication to Masonry may be gleaned from his continual service as member, vice-chairman or chairman of several Grand Lodge Committees, as well as from his keen interest in youth organizations. Indeed, he has been an active member of the Supreme Council, Order of DeMolay (Philippines). Besides serving as chairman of the Advisory Board, MacArthur Chapter, IOD, he has been a member of the Advisory Board of Perla Assembly, IORG.

Chosen Manila-Mt. Lebanon Lodge No. 1's Most Outstanding Mason, RW Beltran was Masonic District 1-A's Athlete of the Year, as well as President of the District's Grand Guild of Past Masters, 1984-85.

He has had other positions such as those of director, IBP, Manila II-Chapter; past president, Graduate School Students' Council, UST; past president, Square and Compass Toastmasters Club:

In 1976-80 and in 1984-86, respectively, he was chosen chairman and vice-chairman of the Council, National Cathedral of the Holy Child, PIC. He was also in the committee tasked with the construction of the Memorial Hall in honor of PGM Calixto O. Zaldivar.

. . . AND SIS. LUALHATI DOMINGO-BELTRAN

She was born to Melecio and Catalina Domingo on Feb. 12, 1941. Like Sis. Charo, Sis. Lualhati studied at the University of the East, where she took up secretarial course and finished her Bachelor of Science in Commerce degree. Now she is proprietress and manager of Moonlit Crafts, manufacturer of ceramics and decor items.

Sis. Lualhati is a member not only of Sampaguita Chapter No. 3, OES, but of Manila Court No. 4, Order of the Amaranth, as well.

The Beltrans have seven children — Aristotle, Emmanuel, Jessica, Matthew Catherine, Peter John, and Clarissa. The first two are DeMolays, and the third is an IORG member. Recently Matthew joined his two brothers to become the third DeMolay in the family.

WE TOGETHER

Speech delivered by Hon. Estelito Mendoza, Minister of Justice at the 69th Annual Communication of F & AM, Republic of the Philippines, April 1985.

I am highly honored to have been asked to share with you today a thought or two. For yours is an organization of lofty ideals, intense commitment and true fraternal brotherhood. It therefore must have the strength and the will, perhaps the responsibility too, of recovering the lost strength of our democractic institutions, of arresting the erosion of the moral standards of society and of fueling the faltering flame of love of country and removing every cloud and haziness that now obscures the true meaning of patriotism.

First, democracy.

Jean-Francois Revel, a French philospher and journalist, tells us:

"Democracy may, after all, turn out to have been historical accident, a brief parenthesis that is closing before our eyes.

In its modern sense of a form of society reconciling governmental efficiency with legitimacy, authority with individual freedoms, it will have lasted a little over two centuries, to judge by the speed of growth of the forces bent on its destruction. And, really, only a tiny minority of the human race will have experienced it. In both time and space, democracy fills a very small corner. The span of roughly two hundred years applies only to the few countries where it first appeared, still very incomplete, at the end of the eighteenth century. Most of the other countries in which democracy exists adopted it under a century ago, under half a century ago, in some cases less than a decade ago.

Democracy probably could have endured had it been the only type of political organization in the world. But it is not basically structured to defend itself against outside enemies seeking its annihilation, especially since the latest and most dangerous of these external enemies, communism — the current and complete model of totalitarianism — parades as democracy perfected when it is in fact the absolute negation of democracy.

Democracy tends to ignore, even deny, threats to its existence because it loathes doing what is needed to counter them.

Democracy is by its very nature turned inward. Its vocation is the patient and realistic improvement of life in a community. Communism, on the other hand, necessarily looks outward because it is a failed society and is incapable of engendering a viable one. The Nomenklatura, the body of bureaucrat-dictators who govern the system, has no choice, therefore, but to direct its abilities toward expansion abroad. Communism is more skillfull, more persevering than democracy in defending itself. Democracy tends to ignore, even deny, threats to its existence because it loathes doing what is needed to counter them. It awakens only when the danger becomes deadly, imminent, evident. By then, either there is too little time left for it to save itself, or the price of survival has become crushingly high.

In addition to its external enemy (once Nazi, now Communist), whose intellectual energy and economic power are primarily destructive, democracy faces an internal enemy whose right to exist is written into the law itself.

Totalitarianism liquidates its internal enemies or smashes opposition as soon as it arises; it uses methods that are simple and infallible because they are undemocractic. But democracy can defend itself only very feebly; its internal enemy has an easy time of it because he exploits the right to disagree that is inherent in democracy. His aim of destroying democracy itself, of actively seeking an absolute monopoly of power, is shrewdly hidden behind the citizen's legitimate right to oppose and criticize the system. Paradoxically, democracy offers those seeking to abolish it a unique opportunity to work against it legally. They can even receive almost open support from the external enemy without its being seen as a truly serious violation of the social contract. The frontier is vague, the transition easy between the status of a loyal opponent wielding a privilege built into democratic institutions and that of an adversary subverting those institutions. To totalitarianism, an opponent is by definition subversive; democracy treats subversives as mere opponents for fear of betraying its principles.

What we end up with in what is conventionally called Western society is a topsy-turvy situation in which those seeking to destroy democracy appear to be fighting for legitimate aims, while its defenders are pictured as repressive reactionaries with the tion of democracy's internal and external adversaries with the forces of progress, legitimacy, even peace, discredits and paralyzes the efforts of people who are only trying to preserve their institutions.

Like the "Industry of vice" that reform groups used to talk about, there is now an "industry of blame."

Already besieged by this combination of hostile forces and negative logic, the democracies are also harassed by guilt-producing accusations and intimidation that no other political system has had to tolerate. Like the "industry of vice" that reform groups used to talk about, there is now an "industry of blame"; it promotes the now universally accepted notion that everything bad that happens in the Third World is the fault of forces necessarily and exclusively located in the "more advanced" or "rich" countries, meaning, in almost every case — and for good reason — the democracies.

The major shareholders in this industry of blame are, first, the despots who oppress the peoples of that unfortunate Third World with impunity. Next come the Communist countries, exploiting the underdevelopment abroad that they cannot remedy at home and converting the poor nations into totalitarian military fortresses.

Here too, in what are termed North-South relations, the democracies' foreign and domestic enemies are converging; their maneuvers are of no help at all in improving the lot of the poor countries, but they are marvelously effective in undermining the democracies' confidence in their own legitimacy, their own right to exist. The "progressive" support some Westerners give to the worse of the Third World regimes is merely a geographical relocation of what for sixty years was "progressive" support of the Soviet Union and, later, of Mao Tse-tung's China: complicity by a part of the Western left against the people of the less developed countries and with the tyrants who enslave them, brutalize, starve, and exterminate them. A shameful distortion of a noble cause!

It seems, then, that the combination of forces — at once psychological and material, political and moral, economic and ideological — intent on the extinction of democracy is more powerful than those forces bent on keeping it alive. Democracy is not given credit for its achievements and benefits, but it pays an infinitely higher price for its failures, its inadequacies, and its mistakes than its adversaries do.

"Demoncratic civilization is the first in history to blame itself because another power is working to destroy it.

The aim of this book is to describe in detail the implacable democracy-killing machine this world of ours has become. There may be some satisfaction in understanding how it works, even if we are powerless to stop it."

"Democratic civilization is the first in history to blame itself because another power is working to destroy it. The distinguishing mark of our century is not so much communism's determination to erase democracy from our planet, or its frequent success in pursuing that end, as it is the humility with which democracy is not only consenting to its own obliteration but is contriving to legitimize its deadliest enemy's victory.

It is natural for communism to try with all its might to eliminate democracy, since the two systems are incompatible and communism's survival depends on its rival's annihilation. That the Communist offensive is more successful, more skillful than democracy's resistance will be seen by history as just another example of one power outmaneuvering another. But it is less natural and more novel that the stricken civilization should not only be deeply convinced of the rightness of its own defeat, but that it should regale its friends and foes with reasons why defending itself would be immoral and, in any event, superfluous, useless, even dangerous."

Revel's democracy seems very much like ours.

The inherent weaknesses are, of course, present. The tension between popular will and efficiency, between popular will and wisdom, between popular will as a means and an end in itself.

And how apologetic, nay, embarrassed are we, indeed, in directly confronting communism fearing that in so doing we may be trampling on individual rights. How scrupulous we are in assuring that the rights of the "enemy" are protected! And how we gloat in condemning our own errors and occasional excesses — instead of being saddened that in our fight to survive a price must be paid.

It is time we realize how much of democracy is rhetoric — that Lincoln's government of the people, for the people and by the people, literally understood, is an illusion, because the essence of government is precisely delegation of authority, that only equal opportunity is guaranteed and not equal distribution of resources, that all that is required with the consent of the governed and not that all the people can be governors.

It is time we realize, however, that in a world of complex relationships and of diminishing resources, there can be no survival from the forces which would destroy democracy within society itself unless there is a functioning government, and with a threat from without attacking frontally, not only must the democratic institutions of government appear to be democratic but they must function and capable of aggressive action.

It is time, indeed, that we make up our minds whether to survive or to simply maintain the facade of a democratic society. It is time that we marshall the will to win and to pay the price of victory. Time is no longer on our side. The tide must be stemmed now and not tomorrow, lest it be too late or the price be "crushingly high".

Second, disappearing moral standards.

In a speech I heard last week, the speaker recalled that when she was a small girl her father taught her to be truthful and honest and to have fear of the Lord. From what we see around us, I am not sure anymore whether it is right or wrong to be truthful and honest, or whether we must fear the Lord at all (some would perhaps even ask whether there is a Lord at all).

In truth, the moral standards of our society have undergone such drastic revision that on many things we are no longer sure what is right and what is wrong.

We have for centuries been told that among the most sacred relationship is marriage and that it is a social institution. It seems so sacred now that many consider it untouchable and stay away from it and "live-in" proudly instead.

Exhibition of the human body in the most erotic poses and even of the sexual act have ceased to be embarrassing; in fact, these seem now to be the passports to star billings in the cinema.

Over centuries, the high and lofty regard for women gave rise to knighthood, chivalry, to being a gentleman. Now, the effort seems to be to haul down women from their high and lofty pedestals and the women join the effort. We of course continue to be revolted by rape inflicted in the most cruel and debasing fashion – but only in such circumstances.

In politics and government similarly, the confusion grows. We demand the severest scruples, integrity, diligence but easily accord respectability, adulation even, to those who have wealth and power no matter how obtained, especially if shared with us. We seek performance but performance will not itself win an election. One must charm the electorate, with promises and flatteries, even the peso on election day. We like to condemn and enjoy seeing failure rather than success.

The accumulation and development of the most lethal armaments of liquidating mankind seem now not only acceptable but indispensable in the domestic and international scenes. Is killing no longer wrong?

Third, on love of country.

In times of war where a nation is threatened by invasion, the enemy is readily identifiable. To Lapulapu, therefore, who resisted the first foreign invader and slew him, the enemy was clearly identified. In such instances, love of country or patriotism is demonstrated by courage in the battlefield, by the shedding of blood, by risking life.

Now, as our country is threatened from outside forces as well as forces from within, both from identifiable enemies and those whose clothes and slogans are like everybody else, love of country would demand sacrifice in many forms, by giving up part of the very freedom we need to protect, prerogatives we desire to enjoy, sharing with others thigns we own and cherish.

All these we must now confront — imperilled democratic institutions, disappearing moral standards and the haziness of the demands of patriotism and love of country — and can only overcome with selfless sacrifice. But it is perhaps the unique character of man that hardly any man sacrifices alone and men sacrifice more easily together. Perhaps although sounding somewhat tritely, the problem is like the chicken and the egg: Which comes first? Who sacrifices first, you or me? I believe that if we are to overcome all of these crises and emerge triumphant, the answer must not be either you or me but US together. I know that your organization, the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the Philippines, is strong in its unity, dedicated in its commitments and sincere in its fraternity, that the question "Who first?" will not arise for in every common cause your answer shall be "We together."

THE VOICE OF ALBERT PIKE

It should be the earnest desire of every Perfect Master so to live and deal and act, that when it comes to him to die, he may be able to say, and his conscience to adjudge, that no man on earth is poorer, because he is richer; that what he hath he has honestly earned, and no man can go before God and claim that by the rules of equity administered in His great chancery, this house in which we die, this land we devise to our heirs, this money that enriches those who survive to bear our name, is his and not ours.

— Albert Pike

Presentation of Past Grand Master's Jewel

Before presenting the Grand Master's Jewel to MW Reynato Puno, MW Rody Herrera called on the Grand Marshal to escort Sis. Luz Puno and the Puno children to the East. Then he began his piece:

"I remember clearly, when I was Grand Master, my then Deputy Grand Master once jokingly told me. "Rody, you are setting a precedent that will be hard for any Grand Master to follow."

"Perhaps he was then referring to the visitations I was doing.

"Being his immediate Past Grand Master, who had been close to him and his family, and having been one of those whom he had been consulting once in a while, I was able to see how he worked, and how he divided his time for his family, his duty in the government and our Masonic fraternity.

Turning to him who would reveive the PGM's jewel, he solemnly said:

"As I present to you this meaningful jewel, let me congratulate you for a very colorful term, replete with achievements, as Grand Master. Let me be the one to tell you now, with sincerity, that you are the one who started a precedent, so hard for any Grand Master to follow, especially because you are as busy and as responsible a government official.

"Your courage and effort to go around the jurisdiction on visitations despite the fact that there are at times problems of peace and order in some part of the country and despite the fact that as Deputy Minister of Justice you have heavy responsbilities. Every one of us knows how difficult it must have been for you to divide your time between your work and the fraternity.

"The very notable change from a very quiet and serious Justice to a very accommodating Grand Master who has found out that the term of the Grand Master goes with a smile and sometimes with carefree giggles, to the delight of the brethren:

"The help that you have not only to families of Masons, but to countless citizens as well:

"The closeness we saw in you and your family, as well as your firm belief in God and your devotion to your faith;

"Your efforts to be with the families of Masons when you are needed;

"Your initiative to carry on a face-lifting of our Grand Lodge building, while the new one's construction is continuing;

"Your participation in Masonic studies and your effort to build our Masonic library and museum for this purpose;

"Your edicts that have strengthened our rules in Masonry;

"The show of affection you have shown to the Past Masters, Senior Mason, widows and orphans; and

"Most of all, the fellowship you joined among brothers which strengthened our bond –

"All these, we know, you have painstakingly done – despite, I repeat, the pressure from your own respectable position in the government.

"I know that, like the other Past Grand Masters, that jewel is just a symbol. What is not to be forgotten is the love, the time, the effort and the services you have shared with your brothers and their families.

"I know for many, your name will be written in their hearts. I know, too that the memories of your term, the happiness you have derived from the service to your brethren and to mankind will linger on forever.

"As you receive this symbol of your love, service, and devotion, please accept my warm congratulations. May you continue to love and to serve Masonry, humanity and our country."

The Response

A wit once asked me what is the most difficult song to sing. I gave him a lot of answers and I could not give the correct one. When I ran out of answers, he whispered it is the swan song. I felt at that time it was a silly answer but tonight as I rose to give my swan song I fully realize the wisdom of the answer. I have delivered countless speeches before the brethren yet on this occasion I feel like choking. I hope therefore you will excuse my shortage of semantics.

But even while I am groping for the right words and at the risk of calloused consistency, I wish to express for the nth time my gratitude to the brethren for giving me an opportunity to serve them as Grand Master. I like to thank most especially MW Rosendo Herrera for his very kind words and his mellifluous felicitations. After listening to his short speech I can feel the weakening of my knees as if I have received a right hook from Marvelous Marvin Hagler. For among our Past Grand Masters, MW Herrera is one of the most beloved by the brethren. I have however the sneaking suspicion that all the carefully embroidered praises are designed to set me up as a candidate for the position of Grand Secretary. (Laughter), Looking back, I think one of my biggest blunders as a Grand Master is my failure to issue an Edict prohibiting a Past Grand Master from declining the position of Grand Secretary. (Laughter).

But levity aside, if the fraternity made any advances this Masonic year, the brethren owe it to nobody but themselves. The improvement of our dormitory and office spaces, the beautification of the canteen, the rebuilding of the library, the facelifting of our present Temple, the roofing of our new Temple, all of these would have been impossible if you did not dig deep enough in your pockets. The numerous reforms that we vigorously pushed could not have reached first base without your phalanx of Temple, I only served as your menial worker; in the matter of reforms I only served as your mouth piece. If congratulations are in order, they belong to nobody but to the brethren themselves.

In any event, let me assure the brethren that I shall always treasure this gift of yours, the Past Grand Master's Jewel. It will always remind me of the trust of the brethren; it will always spur me to promote and protect the interest of the Craft over and above what is personal and petty; it will always inspire me to serve the fraternity at the will and pleasure of the Most Worshipful Grand Master. And so you my brethren, I tithe again my talent, to the Craft, I tithe my total self.

Lastly, I wish to thank the Past Grand Masters for welcoming me to their elite club. I most especially thank MW Raymond E. Wilmarth, the President of the Board for General Purposes, whose advice always canalized my efforts towards the right direction and whose words always lifted my spirit. Let me confess that I am joining your club but not without trepidation. Truth to tell, I feel like a midget playing in the major league. I wish to assure you however that I am willing to play any role, nay, even the role of a mascot. (Laughter).

Let me end by asking you one little favor. For once, allow me to go home early this evening as I intend to court again my wife. (Laughter) For the last four years, I have not whispered to her those little sweet nothings (Laughter). I hope she still remembers me and accede to another honeymoon. (Laughter)

Thank you and Mabuhay!

AN UNFORGETTABLE TETE-A-TETE IN AN AUGUST AFTERNOON IN THE YEAR 1984

by Bro. Ramon Balbuena Buza
Sindañgan Lodge 240

One pleasant morning in August, last year, I checked if the issues of the Cabletow were all there; for, in spite of the availability, at home, of other reading materials like those from the Ministry of Education, Culture and Sports, my wife and I have found such Masonic papers as the Cabletow not only informative but educational as well. Some non-Masons in the local post office, however, might be so allured by and interested in scanning the pages of the Cabletow to satisfy their curiosity about what the publication is all about. My suspicion was proven correct: some did not reach me.

I was thus preoccupied in my examination of my Cabletow copies when I saw our parish priest park his motorcycle a few meters away from our gate. A neighbor of ours entertained the priest, while I continued reading -- occasionally glancing at our neighbor's house because I had a sneaky feeling that the priest was also glancing toward my direction. About noon, the priest arrowed off back to his convento.

"I believe our priest wanted to pay me a visit, but he went to our neighbor, instead," I told my wife upon her arrival from school.

"Yes," she knowingly said, "there are talks floating around that the priest was ordered by his superiors to inquire into why you have joined the Masonic fraternity."

After a brief lunch hiatus, as was her wont, my wife retrieved her steps — back to school. At about 1:30 p.m. the same motorcycling priest appeared. This time he got inside our gate, and I cordially met him. We greeted each other with beaming pleasure and laughter.

After the usual amenities, such as offering him a cup of coffee, I said, "You didn't dare get inside this morning, Father. I knew, however, you wanted to talk to me regarding my Masonic affiliation."

"Sir, being a subordinate, I've got to obey the request of my superior."

It took him a long time to finish his cup of coffee; so it seemed to me. "Having known that you are a member of Masonry, which is generally believed to be against the Catholic religion," he continued, "my superior asked me to see you for confirmation."

"Father," I said, without mincing my words, "there is no need for a long discussion regarding my Masonic affiliation." And pointing to my copies of the Cabletow, I requested him to peruse the articles published therein. Then I stood up to get some papers in my file. Returning to my seat, I presented my visitor a copy of the May 15, 1983 issue of the Philippine Panorama, whose cover flushed in bold relief the happy phrase "A New Day for Philippine Masons."

"Father," I said, "page 56 explains why Masonry was never anti-Catholic." I gave him time to read and ponder on the contents of the article on the page specified. After some silent moments, I showed him the article entitled "The Lifting of Pope Leo XIII's Encyclical on Freemasonry, Etc., " Cabletow, Jan.-Feb. 1984, pp. 2-4, and another article, "Catholic Priests Join the Craft," Cabletow, Nov.-Dec. 1982, p. 27 ff.

He must have become weary reading all the articles I presented. Then, to my surprise, he said, "I don't know these two priests who've joined the Masonic Craft."

Looking at him intently, I retorted, "Do you mean to say, Father, you know all the priests assigned in all nooks and crannies of the Philippines? "

A momentary silence intervened.

Again, I was taken a back when he inquired, "Do you believe that all the articles published in these periodicals are true? " And I mildly replied, in a low voice, "The Cabletow articles, Father, are, to me, not fictitious nor fables. Rather, they are true to life."

He kept quiet once more.

I then told my interlocutor, "When I was not yet of school age, I used to hear the word Mason and to see the building where the Masonic Lodge was located. Having been taught that Masonry was against Christ's teachings I was touched with fear whenever I heard and, more, whenever I uttered the word Mason. I came to discover, however, that there were so many misconceptions about Masonry."

It was his turn to give me an intent look. "If there's something wrong in this Fraternity," I pointed out, "I will be the first one in my Lodge to get out of Masonry. But since I've not come across any line in the Masonic papers that Masonry is against our Catholic belief and teachings, I've got to stick to it."

I volunteered further information about my family background.

"Father," I quipped, "I come from a pious devout Catholic family. Not a single member of our clan — from my grandparents down to my generation — has joined another religious sect. In fact, two of my uncles are secular priests. One of them is in charge of a parish in Zamboanga del Norte."

I revealed to my priestly visitor the name of my priest-uncle, adding: "During the cornerstone-laying and installation ceremonies of the officers of the Sindangan Lodge No. 240 for 1983, it was my uncle who administered the invocation." I told him about MW Rosendo C. Herrera, the Installing Officer then, and his uphill struggle in life. I also remarked that my priest-uncle never showed his dislike toward Masonry and yet he knew was a Mason and I was installed

Chaplain of my Lodge from 1982 to 1984.

"The other priest-uncle of mine is a parish priest in Ilocos Norte," I went on, showing him the June 12, 1983 issue of Philippine Panorama, p. 18. (The scene on the page showed my priest-uncle assisting in the Irene Marcos-Greggy Araneta wedding ceremony.) And my visitor continued to give me his intent, rather curious look.

"I tell you, Father," I added, "an aunt of mine is a Franciscan Missionary Sister stationed at Iligan City." I gave him the name of my nun-aunt, and recounted my visit to Iligan City in 1982.

"I don't like to be near you, for you are a Mason," she pointedly announced.

"Auntie," I answered her laughingly, "wait for a moment. Allow me to brief you on Masonry."

As best as I could, I shared with her what I had known about the Masonic Craft. When I finished, she smilingly uttered, "I am already old in life, and it is only now that my obscure doubts about Masons being anti-Catholic have been somewhat wiped out. So, hijo, that is good."

"You see, Father," I told my visitor that memorable August afternoon in the year 1984, "I am a Catholic. Masonry is only a Fraternity, and it is not anti-Catholic."

"Sir, I was just commanded by my superior," my visitor smilingly reiterated.

"In this Fraternity, Father, we are all brothers, regardless of creed. But no atheist is admitted into the Masonic Craft. You can be sure of that. Through Masonry, we can become the best of men. Through Masonry, I may become a better practitioner of the Catholic religion, partly because among our tenets are brotherly love, relief and truth. . . ."

My visitor know my better half to be a member of the Board of Directors of the Catholic Women's League in our parish. But she is sold to the Masonic Fraternity and therefore has no objection to my being a Mason. In fact, she believes in the principles of the Craft. Through reading Masonic articles through dialogues and through personal observation, she must have deduced that the persistent and consistent application of Masonic tenets in daily life makes a person, whatever be his religion, a truly moral and holy individual.

It was the custom of the Druids to open and close their bardic circles with a formula of prayer, the words of which have been preserved, and would form a beautiful formula to be adopted by Masonic Lodges for the same purpose. The prayer is as follows:

"O God, grant us thy protection; and with protection, strength; and with strength, discretion; and with discretion, justice; and with justice, love; and with love, the love of God; and with the love of God, the love of all living things."

In Masonry the Sacred Book lies open. There is no attempt at any interpretation of it. It lies open to signify that it is open to alland that each must interpret the revelation for himself. On its pages lie the square and compasses, with the aid of which we are to work out its plan of life. The square represents the perfect balance of things, material and moral — in the world called "pose" or "rest." And in the moral sphere called "justice." The compasses are the symbol of that which controls and guides every energy or power. Called in nature "law" and in morals "will."

EDICT NO. 88

TO: ALL DDGMs, DGLs, MASTERS, OFFICERS & MEMBERS OF LODGES UNDER THIS JURISDICTION:

Whereas, the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the Philippines, has established Masonic Lodges and Districts spread over the three main geographical divisions of the Philippine Archipelago and other Lodges and Districts located overseas;

Whereas, there were several instances in the past where a Masonic District or a Masonic Lodge requesting instruction from the Grand Lecturers could not be complied with due to conflicting dates or earlier commitments;

Whereas, we have to meet the needs and requirements of the Brethren in the Lodges and Districts insofar as Masonic Education and Instruction are concerned and promote greater efficiency, develop proficiency, and insure uniformity among the officers, rank and file of our Craft;

Whereas, there is need to assign a Junior Grand Lecturer to each of the three geographical divisions of the Archipelago to assist the Grand Lecturers in the preparation and organization of Masonic Seminars and Workshops in each of the named territories;

Whereas, there are at present only two Junior Grand Lecturers to meet the present needs of the Brethren;

Now, therefore, I, PEDRO W. GUERZON, Grand Master of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the Philippines, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by our constitution, do hereby Decree, the creation of a position for a third Junior Grand Lecturer to be assigned thus: one for Luzon; one for the Visayas; and, one for Mindanao.

Bulletin No. 1
Series of 1985 — GUERZON

To: All DDGMs, Masters, Officers and Members of Lodges under this Jurisdiction

Greetings:

The query has been posed whether Edict No. 81-Puno covers brethren who are already seventy years old and above and due to age find it difficult to attend their lodge meetings.

The edict penalizes only failure to attend at least three stated meetings within a year without any justifiable cause. Failure to attend our stated meetings due to old age and/or physical incapacity is a justifiable cause. Therefore, brethren who are already seventy years of age and of good standing and cannot comply with the edict by reason of their age and/or physical incapacity are exempt from its embrace.

Given this 2nd day of May 1985 in the City of Manila.

Fraternally,

PEDRO W. GUERZON

CIRCULAR NO. 1
Series of 1985 - GUERZON

To all Masters, Wardens, DDGMs, DGLs, JGLs, GLIs and Members of Lodges under this jurisdiction

Greetings:

In implementation of the report of the Budget Committee and approved during our Sixty-Ninth Grand Communication, the following assessments shall be enforced effective 1985:

Per Capita . . P100.00 per annum
Degree fee conferred
. . . . . 10.00 per degree

All Masters of subordinate Lodges are enjoined to see that this circular is implemented immediately and collections remitted to the Grand Lodge as early as possible.

We are confident every Mason is cognizant of the economic condition that warrants this drastic change and will readily cooperate with the Grand Lodge.

This Circular shall be read in open Lodge at the Stated Meeting next following its receipt and shall be spread in the minutes of said meeting.

Fraternally,

PEDRO W. GUERZON
Grand Master

CIRCULAR NO. 3
Series of 1985 - GUERZON

To all Masters, Wardens, DDGMs, DGLs, GLIs and Members of Lodges under this jurisdiction

Greetings:

It has been noticed that Tylers of Lodges allow brethren entrance to the Lodge even if they do not possess the current dues cards.

Article IX of the Uniform Code of By-Laws of subordinate Lodges, Sec. 1, specifies that dues of each member shall be "payable quarterly in advance." None collection of dues as required results in the deterioration of the financial capability of the Lodge to meet its obligations.

I, therefore, direct each Master of the subordinate Lodge to see that the Tyler of his Lodge complies with the Regulations of the Grand Lodge to "suffer none to pass or repass but such as are duly qualified."

This circular shall be read at the first stated meeting after its receipt by the Lodge and spread in the minutes of said meeting.

Manila, May 15, 1985.

Fraternally,

PEDRO W. GUERZON
Grand Master

THE VALUE OF MAN

A man's value to the world is in direct proportion to the unselfish service he renders. In the heart of every true Mason there is something — call it instinct, principle or what you may — that doesn't permit him to be well satisfied with those things he does for himself as with those he does for others. That is why all members of the Craft now living or those who shall live owe and shall owe a debt of gratitude to those who devote their lives to the teachings of Masonry.
